

LIVE THE LIFE YOU WANT!by Carla de Cervantes*Uncovering

Intimate relationships require time and energy, love and nurturing. Each of us sees those around us through a particular filter. This filter, created by our life experiences, colors our perception of the people whose lives touch ours.

Our filters adjust only if we stay open and curious about who the person before us is, without preconceptions, letting go a bit of our ideas of what we want for ourselves or what we think is going on inside the other person.

UNCOVERING

Peel back the layers
Set facades aside
Just be who you are
When you're with me

Forget about appearances
Don't worry what I'll think
Be playful, angry, sad, afraid
If that is how you feel

No need to strive
Or try to impress
Just be true to you
You're perfect as you are

Uncovering, discovering you
Bit by bit, as you too
Learn a little more
Of who I am today

Why worry or hurry
It'll happen naturally
Slowly by slowly
We'll begin to see
How you being you
Fits with me being me
